

SOLAR FIRE DYNAMIC INTERPRETATIONS REPORT

TRANSITS: Transits to Natal Interpretations

These interpretations have been written to apply to transits to a geocentric tropical natal chart using a quadrant-based house system.

When using these interpretations, please bear in mind that, inevitably, every chart will contain some contradictory influences, and as a result certain interpretations of different items in the same chart may seem difficult to reconcile. However, this may still be an accurate reflection of what is happening to the individual whose transits are being interpreted, as people do experience conflicting desires, events and circumstances in their lives. It is the responsibility of the astrologer to synthesise these apparent contradictions in order to present a cohesive and realistic interpretation of the dilemmas of the chart.

Australian astrologer Stephanie Johnson has written the text in this report. Stephanie is a founder of Esoteric Technologies, the company that creates the Solar Fire suite of astrology products. She has helped create, design, develop and author Solar Fire and the other products. In particular she is the author of many of the Solar Writer range of astrology report writers. She is also the Marketing Director for Esoteric Technologies. Stephanie runs her own Seeing With Stars astrology consultation business as well as editing the Australian Data Collection. She holds a Federation of Australian Astrologers' Practitioner's Certificate and Diploma and is a member of the Federation of Australian Astrologers. She is a student of Medieval Astrology and the Ancient Wisdom teachings. She has lectured at national conferences, and her astrology articles have appeared in Australian publications including the FAA Journal and the Astrological Monthly Review. Before commencing her professional astrology career Stephanie was a journalist for 15 years in Australia, England and the USA. Your need for self expression may take over your common sense and you need to beware of taking risks without appropriate discrimination. The more your individual freedom has been oppressed by authority figures, the greater your desire to break free. However, you would do well to strike the right balance between developing your own individual rights and considering the rights of others.

If you are in the older age group this can time can manifest itself more as a need to break free of your responsibilities and to brighten up life. If you have fallen into a rut in the past, you will now feel the urge to break out. Perhaps you feel that you have given a considerable amount of time and energy to your family, work and society. Now it is your turn. For this reason you will consider many new and exciting ventures such as starting again in a different city or country, moving home, or retiring from your life's work. You experience this transit at two different times in your lifetime, once at about 27 years of age, and again at around the age of 56-57.

At both stages of this transit you are likely to have a positive attitude to change, actively seeking to satisfy your own aspirations in life rather than someone else's. New ideas and progress, either your own or other people's, are welcomed. You have opportunities to explore new and exciting experiences, if you so choose. These opportunities may arise in the fields of science, technology, or metaphysics, or you may enjoy implementing changes in any area of your life. This is a time when your originality and intuition shine and you reap the benefits.

At the earlier stage you are likely to be making changes so that your life more truly reflects your own nature. This may mean breaking away from childhood influences, which were once comforting and supportive. As a young adult, you are now seeking more independence, secure in the knowledge that you have a greater understanding of your own nature and needs.

During the later age phase you are reflecting on the path of your life, your achievements and failures. There is a point where you acknowledge changes that need to be made in order for you to live your life according to your own deeper desires. In looking back, you realise areas where you have compromised your freedom to the detriment of achieving your own goals in life. As a result you desire change and the freedom to assert your individuality.

The goal at both of these stages of life is self-fulfilment.

Exact 10 Mar 2026

This transit is known in astrology as the "Saturn Return" and occurs approximately every 29 years. The planet Saturn has done a full cycle of your chart and returned to its natal position. The first Saturn return, at approximately 29-years-old, is one of the most important times of your life. You are leaving behind childhood and reviewing your life through new, more mature eyes. During this time your past comes under close scrutiny. You are being forced, whether you like it or not, to face life with a new maturity.

This time marks a separation process, during which anything that no longer supports your life purpose is being broken down and remoulded, or discarded. This paves the way for new responsibilities to be shouldered as you move into the next cycle. The type of responsibility will be affected by the house placement and rulership of Saturn.

The second Saturn return, around the age of 58, also forces you to face up to your responsibilities. The effects of this second return will vary, depending on how successfully you handled your first return.

This transit is known in astrology as the "Saturn Return" and occurs approximately every 29 years. The planet Saturn has done a full cycle of your chart and returned to its natal position. The first Saturn return, at approximately 29-years-old, is one of the most important times of your life. You are leaving behind childhood and reviewing your life through new, more mature eyes. During this time your past comes under close scrutiny. You are being forced, whether you like it or not, to face life with a new maturity.

This time marks a separation process, during which anything that no longer supports your life purpose is being broken down and remoulded, or discarded. This paves the way for new responsibilities to be shouldered as you move into the next cycle. The type of responsibility will be affected by the house placement and rulership of Saturn.

The second Saturn return, around the age of 58, also forces you to face up to your responsibilities. The effects of this second return will vary, depending on how successfully you handled your first return.

This is a particularly sensitive time for you. Someone or something in your life is not quite as it seems and yet, no matter how hard you try, you cannot get things out into the open. As a result you are confused and insecure. It could be that someone is indeed deceiving you, or it could be that you are not seeing things clearly. It is hard to discriminate. Therefore it is not a good time for major decisions, as they may be based on emotional insecurities rather than a true picture of circumstances. You would be better advised to bide your time. This may also be a time for grieving rather than one for forging ahead. Rest and relax as much as possible, allow your tears to flow if you are feeling sad and wait until the transit has ended. Then the picture will become clearer and you will have greater insight with which to make your decisions. It is also a good time to take extra care with your health, avoiding unhealthy situations and people.

Do not be too hard on yourself, although this is easier said than done during this transit. It would be better if you could take some time out for quiet reflection and try to gain some perspective. It is simply that some areas of your life need to dissolve so that you can take a new direction. There is no need to be self-critical. It is more important that you adopt a "go-with-the-flow" attitude and where possible withdraw from demanding activities, perhaps even going into a retreat. Spiritual studies, communing with nature and soothing music could all prove helpful and healing during this process, although you could find that they increase your sense of confusion and loss. If this is the case then withdraw until the end of the transit. The aim is to be involved with activities and people who help to soothe your agitated state, rather than increase it.

TRANSITING URANUS TRINE DIRECTED URANUS (1st House to 9th House)

Exact 31 Jul 2034, Exact 28 Dec 2034, Exact 3 Jun 2035

You experience this transit at two different times in your lifetime, once at about 27 years of age, and again at around the age of 56-57.

At both stages of this transit you are likely to have a positive attitude to change, actively seeking to satisfy your own aspirations in life rather than someone else's. New ideas and progress, either your own or other people's, are welcomed. You have opportunities to explore new and exciting experiences, if you so choose. These opportunities may arise in the fields of science, technology, or metaphysics, or you may enjoy implementing changes in any area of your life. This is a time when your originality and intuition shine and you reap the benefits.

At the earlier stage you are likely to be making changes so that your life more truly reflects your own nature. This may mean breaking away from childhood influences, which were once comforting and supportive. As a young adult, you are now seeking more independence, secure in the knowledge that you have a greater understanding of your own nature and needs.

During the later age phase you are reflecting on the path of your life, your achievements and failures. There is a point where you acknowledge changes that need to be made in order for you to live your life according to your own deeper desires. In looking back, you realise areas where you have compromised your freedom to the detriment of achieving your own goals in life. As a result you desire change and the freedom to assert your individuality.

The goal at both of these stages of life is self-fulfilment.

This transit can cause a crisis of confidence. Areas of your life which you thought were ideal start to crumble before your very eyes undermining your self-esteem. Do not be too hard on yourself, although this is easier said than done during this transit. It would be better if you could take some time out for quiet reflection and try to gain some perspective. It is simply that some areas of your life need to dissolve so that you can take a new direction. There is no need to be self-critical. It is more important that you adopt a "go-with-the-flow" attitude and where possible withdraw from demanding activities, perhaps even going into a retreat. Spiritual studies, communing with nature and soothing music could all prove helpful and healing during this process, although you could find that they increase your sense of confusion and loss. If this is the case then withdraw until the end of the transit. The aim is to be involved with activities and people who help to soothe your agitated state, rather than increase it.

second Chiron square. The first Chiron square occurs earlier in life, the second later after the Chiron opposition. If the first Chiron square is very early in your life, this is likely to be a time marked by trauma and unhappiness, possibly linked with a physical illness. If it is the second Chiron square, much later in life, it is potentially a very creative time, as by now you have a better understanding of yourself. With both the squares you are being asked to view painful experiences in your life in order to gain greater self-understanding. A healing process is involved, and as a result you may become a healer or teacher. Certainly you are being asked to put your life in order so that it reflects your inner self.

It can be a positive time when you feel greater compassion and understanding for other people's emotional difficulties, or it can be a difficult time when you feel that you cannot seem to separate yourself from other people's emotional pain. Therefore it is a good time to avoid people who are the helpless victims of the world, saving your compassion for only those who truly need your help. Your intuition is heightened and your dream life may be prolific. It is a good time to record your dreams as they may be particularly insightful. At this time you also want to be close to your loved ones enjoying spiritual or artistic pastimes. You may be upset if this time cannot be arranged. Domestic relationships are sometimes difficult, particularly with your mother or motherly type friends. Meditation and quiet contemplation are ideal ways of making the most of this transit.
